

I support the proposal to remove the morse code requirement from all amateur radio license examinations. Morse code proficiency does not demonstrate the needed technical skills to use, experiment, and enjoy amateur radio, especially with today's commonly available technologies.